

JOB MOBILITY

Req #: 25200

|   |   |
|---|---|
| Sr. Supply Chain Planning Analyst, AmericasPosition Title | April 30, 2008Date  |
| Sites Supply Chain -AmericasDepartment                    | Fidel VeraDirector of Americas Site Supply Chain Planning |

Level: D-05

REQUIREMENTS:

BS in Industrial Engineering or BBA. Four (4) years hands-on experience in the following roles: Capacity Planning, Master Scheduling, Production Scheduling, and Materials Planning (Planner/Buyer). APICS CPIM certification preferable. In-depth knowledge of MRP philosophy, Supply Chain/Materials Management, Production Planning, etc. Expert knowledge of SAP Planning Functions; capacity planning, production scheduling (Graphical Planning Table), materials planning, procurement, master data, etc. and SAP Business Warehouse (BW) reporting functionality. Direct experience working in an international environment and interacting with diversity of cultures. Able to frame, formalize and present analysis / process design /project status. Ability to work under minimum supervision, take initiative and high sense of urgency. Ability to influence people and establish relationships with multiple levels / functions within the company. Expert using Microsoft Office Suite (Excel, Word, Power Point, Access, Visio) Analytical skills, able to draw and present findings and recommendations. Excellent communication skills. Ability to facilitate trainings and functional area knowledge. Fully bilingual: Fluent in English and Spanish. Excellent documentation skills in English. Familiar with cGood Manufacturing Practices (GMP). Some travel required to the US and international.

SOME RESPONSIBILITIES:

Ensure planning standard tools are made available to support supply plans at manufacturing sites and facilitate its implementation. Participates in sites review to ensure compliance with the Supply Chain Planning Process Global Standards. Assist sites in implementing action plans resulting from Supply Chain reviews or other data indicators to improve efficiencies. Monitor and analyze supply chain planning metrics performance results and trends to identify opportunities for improvement and to work with the respective sites process owners and key users to drive improvement. Participates and facilitates initiatives to implement site planning best practices working in collaboration with sites Supply Chain planning personnel. Serve as a power or super-user for sites supply chain planning for SAP, Business Warehouse, and other systems where applicable to Sites Supply Planning. Work effectively and collaboratively with sites as well as corporate supply chain personnel in process standardization or process improvement projects. Participate in corporate Supply Chain initiatives. Develop and deliver training and education for Supply Chain Planning processes and best practices.

Due Date: May 7, 2008

Bristol-Myers Squibb is an Equal Opportunity Enterprise V/H/F/M. Women are encouraged to apply.

Job Bidding & Resume Submission services are available in your  web site through Career Portal!*

